

Giacomo Conterno

Giacomo Conterno was a legendary traditionalist in the Piedmont town of Monforte d'Alba. He has been one of Barolo's driving forces since their first vintage of Monfortino in 1920. Today, his grandson Roberto continues to produce one of the appellation's finest and most traditional Barolos. All of these wines come from the 14-hectare Cascina Francia vineyard in Serralunga d'Alba.

Avintage for Barolo lovers. The 2008 Barolo Cascina Francia is a great Barolo from a classic vintage. Whereas the 2007 was a bit richer and had more power, the 2008 is more focused, compact and aromatic. Definitely one for the cellar. With warmer vintages becoming more common, vintages like 2008 are a fresh reprieve. Built to last! Order deadline Monday May 14. All orders subject to final confirmation.
